Create a little kindness rainbow

To help support spreading kindness when you are cooped up together and especially on rainy days. Have your child create a cloud with a person's name on it. Then have them either color strips (that have been cut) or use already colored strips to list some different positive attributes about them.